

Mr. Dharmakirti Joshi is currently the Director and Principal Economist at the Centre for Economic Research, CRISIL(C-CER). With over 16 years experience in economic research and consultancy, his career began in NCAER where he spent 11 years.

He then moved on to increasingly senior positions in Central Electricity Regulatory Commission, New Delhi and CRISIL. He has extensive experience in macroeconomic analysis, medium term assessment of Indian economy and forecasting as well as in public finance issues at the central and state levels. He has been a consultant to many states on fiscal issues. At CRISIL he is involved in consulting assignments that range from demand forecasting, assessment of macro economic scenario and its implication for the corporate clients. He also analyses and monitors the impact of macro economic shocks on the economy. Mr. Joshi is also the co-chairman of Economic Affairs Committee of Bombay Chamber of Commerce. He often writes for leading newspapers and expresses his views on the economy in the electronic media.